

POLITICAL DEATH FOR OPPOSITION

Charles E. Richards Startles Hobson Mass-Meeting by Telling Message.

HOBSON IS GIVEN OVATION

Efforts to Coerce City Employees to Vote for Incumbents Roundly Denounced.

"I am here for the purpose of announcing to you, my fellow-citizens, my political death. The editor has gone forth that never again shall Charles E. Richards dare run for a public office or position in the city of Richmond."

"On arriving at my home this evening I received a message from Jim Hobson, the editor of the Water Department. This message was to the effect that if I persisted in supporting the candidates of my choice for the Administrative Board, Jim Hobson and his friends would make me as a fee and oppose me for any place of political preference to which I might in the future aspire."

There was bitter irony in the voice of the former Congressman, Charles E. Richards, and the light of defiance in his eye as he delivered himself with impressive earnestness of the charge of attempted coercion against the chief clerk of the city Water Department, in an audience that overflowed the assembly hall of Mechanics Institute last night.

LAIRGE CROWD HEARS

The occasion was the final rally in the interest of Graham B. Hobson, candidate for the Administrative Board. Every seat in the hall, which had been filled by the time the speaker appeared, was taken. The gallery and corridor were thronged. Probably no late comers were able to gain access to the hall. For more than two hours a large crowd sat sweltering in an almost stifling atmosphere, restless and impatient, the crowd listened with interest to the speeches made in behalf of the candidate of Mr. Hobson, the candidate of the opposition.

It was not until all of the speakers announced by the chairman, Henry S. Hotchkiss, had been heard that Mr. Richards appeared. He was introduced by the chairman, Mr. Hotchkiss, and he spoke for about five minutes. His speech came as a distinct surprise, not only to the audience, but to Charles E. Richards and the speakers who had preceded the former Congressman.

It was plainly apparent that Mr. Richards, with the memory of the incident to which he referred fresh in his mind, was "banned" clear through. His utterance was so unexpected, the effect of his opening sentences upon the big crowd of voters was electrical. Mr. Richards said in his opening sentences that he was here for the purpose of announcing to you, my fellow-citizens, my political death.

CONSIDERS RICHMOND'S

"I want to say to you that I regard this threat to me as an insult to every citizen in the city of Richmond, and I want to say to you that I will not be intimidated by the threat of a political death. I should ever want to run for an office I would not have run and I should ever want to run for an office I would not have run and I should ever want to run for an office I would not have run."

ENDORSE HOBSON

Dr. Emmon G. Williams, State Health Commissioner, was next introduced by Mr. Hotchkiss. He said: "This is the first time I have ever been on a platform in behalf of a candidate for the Administrative Board, and I am proud to do so. I have known Mr. Hobson in the city council, and from personal contact and observation, I am able to state that he is a man of high character and ability, and I am proud to endorse him for the Administrative Board."

VICE INQUIRY OVER IS WITHOUT FUNDS

Aldermen Reject Ordinance Appropriating $3,000 for Its Expenses.

WIDEN FOURTEENTH STREET

Rappahannock River Railway Is Relieved of Burden of Giving Transfers.

Falling to concur in the action of the Common Council, which passed the measure by a unanimous vote, the Board of Aldermen last night killed the joint resolution, appropriating $3,000 to defray the expenses of the commission appointed by Mayor Ainslie to investigate and report upon the vice situation in this city. The resolution polled eight affirmative votes and six in the negative, failing for want of the two-thirds vote required for measures requiring appropriation of money.
